

I can choose a topic that appeals to me.

I can develop research questions.

I know how to access information.

I can find relevant resources.

I can evaluate information for reliability, relevance, currency, and authority.

I can take notes and create an outline.

I can make a speech, presentation, or seminar.

I can appreciate a variety of perspectives.

I can create a presentation.

I know how I think and feel about research.		Yes	No	Maybe
I am excited about exploring a topic that interests me.
I feel comfortable when I am beginning and completing research.
I feel uncomfortable because I need help along the way.
